Centerstone will host the Managing and Adapting Practices: Practicewise-Informed Training event from 8am-5pm June 11-12 at John A. Logan College, Room H127, Carterville.

Trainer Matt Buckman will inform clinicians in the utilization of Managing & Adapting Practices. The training will include the availability and utilization of effective Practicewise tools including EBP search tools, practice guides, process guides, and clinical progress monitoring tools to increase the use of evidence-based interventions with youth. A specialized focus will be on youth with disruptive behavior concerns.

Registration information will be released in April. For more information, contact Niki Grajewski, Centerstone Clinical Manager, at niki.grajewski@centerstone.org or (855) 608-3560, ext. 7809.

About Centerstone

Centerstone is a not-for-profit health care organization dedicated to delivering care that changes people's lives. We provide mental health and substance abuse treatment, education and support to communities in Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, and Tennessee and additionally offer individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities life skills development, employment and housing services. Nationally, we have specialized programs for service members, veterans and their loved ones, and develop employee assistance programs for businesses of all sizes. Centerstone's Research Institute improves behavioral healthcare through research and technology. Centerstone's Foundation secures philanthropic resources to support our work.
